Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch's 2008 SCI Donation Fills Big Spaces In Trophy Rooms

David Lau filled a big spot on his trophy room wall with this fine Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch buck.

When retired food industry executive David Lau saw the Celebrity Deer Hunt with Major General Doug Pearson Jr. on the 2008 SCI auction list, he bid and won. As a pilot himself, David wanted to hunt with Major General Pearson, USAF (Ret).

"I met the General through Geoff Miller of Rigby Rifles. I thought one of Donald Hill's great whitetails would look good on my wall so I bought the hunt," said David. "The General and I had a great time at Oak Creek and we both took terrific deer."

Major General Pearson concurs.

"Donald Hill and his wife welcomed us and treated us like family," said the General. "Oak Creek is Double AA Outstanding, as good as it gets. We saw fantastic deer. The guides and the food were great. The setting was really classic Missouri hunting at its best. I passed up the most awesome deer the first day, but took a spectacular whitetail the second day. The hunting was very realistic. I am going back just as soon as I can."

Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch offers first class hospitality and fine accommodations. Their 6,000 square-foot lodge is equipped with the finest amenities. You can hunt spot and stalk, from elevated heated blinds or still hunt, whichever method you prefer. You may hunt with your weapon of choice. The hunt includes all meals, one-on-one guide service, license and field prep. Non-hunter/observers may accompany the hunter at a nominal cost.

To learn more about Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch, stop by Donald's SCI booth number 2329. Call Donald Hill at (573) 943-6644 or visit the website, www.oakcreekwhitetail ranch.com.

Oak Creek has donated a "first week-of-the-season hunt" to SCI for 2010. The hunt, which will be auctioned off at the Saturday night dinner, is auction item No.7. The winning bidder can take any deer of his or her choice.

Major General Doug Pearson, Jr. took this deer at Oak Creek during the 2008 SCI Celebrity Hunt.
