2011 Convention

North Island Guide Outfitters

North Island Guide Outfitters, Vancouver Island, British Columbia. It's a famous destination for black bear hunting.

Vancouver Island means big coastal black bears – lots of them. Each hunter can expect to see 30 to 80 bears (or more) on a five-day hunt.

Travel the most beautiful, breathtaking hunting country imaginable, viewing bears in their natural surroundings, and have the opportunity to selectively harvest a bear, using classic spot-and-stalk methods.

This is a hunt for those serious about hunting trophy black bears. John Hofert, 82, a longtime SCI member and proud member of SCI LA, said:

"Dave and Irene Fyfe & sons are the real deal. North Island Guide Outfitters – a family, hands-on operation, deliver the hunt they advertise, with no self-serving surprises that hunters fear. Their hunt camps are first-class, their administration is impeccable, and their guides are top-notch." Visit Booth #12 at SCI's Annual Convention.

Oak Creek For Hospitality, Huge Deer

Native Kansan Max Rickerson, a lifetime whitetail deer hunting aficionado, has many big deer in his trophy room. Max hunts other North American species, but his focus always has been hunting impressive whitetail deer, which explains why he has returned to Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch five times.

Max took all three of his 300-inch deer at Oak Creek Whitetail Ranch, taking an incredible 346-7/8-incher and truly handsome 321-2/8-incher with double drop tines, (green scores), in 2010. In 2009, Max scored on a remarkable 327-5/8-incher which, at the time would have been the new No.1 SCI Midwestern SCI Non-Typical.

affording participants a rare opportunity to shoot a variety of them. This is an ideal opportunity for those considering the purchase of such a rifle to "have a go" before deciding to buy a rifle of their own. Those who already own such a weapon will benefit from structured instruction on bullet selection, shot placement, recoil management, selection of practical shooting accessories - even the latest in international travel tips for hunters.

Luxurious lodge accommodations, gourmet meals and shooting facilities are provided by the famous Flying B Ranch. They are also offering wing-shooting and black bear hunting in conjunction with the scheduled event.

There is no compromise when it comes to hunt preparation. Your PH or guide will help instill confidence as they share their knowledge and experience that will raise your standard for dangerous game hunting.

Enrollment for this unique event is limited. To reserve your place, come by our booth No. 1157 or email us at info@flyingbranch.com.

schedules. Full time safari staff, many of whom have been with us more than eight years, number around 15 in each camp. Professional Hunters and trackers have intimate knowledge of the concessions operated and animals sought.

Bordering three national parks, Chanjuzi and neighboring Nyaminga cover more than 2,500 square kilometres of prime Luangwa hunting grounds encompassing mopane woodlands, sweeping hills and superb Luangwa River frontage. Hunters normally charter directly into the hunting concessions with a short drive to camp. Both concessions boast consistently large maned lion, huge leopard and big full bossed buffalo, which the safari hunter predominantly hunts together with a wide range of species from antelope to hippo, crocodile, cookson wildebeest and zebra.

Located in north Zambia, Tondwa GMA is 443 sq. kilometres of beautiful wetlands with surrounding hills, providing an unspoiled African landscape that is hard to beat. With the diverse number of species found in this richly populated concession, safari hunters are able to hunt roan, sable, puku, blue duiker, Livingstone's eland, warthog, bushpig and sitatunga, to name a few. This concession is one of the most remote in Zambia.

We are proud to offer the international hunter a truly unique Zambian experience. Visit us in booth No. 771.

ever present sticks and stones encountered while running. The next best thing is running in minimalist footwear, which also allows year-round runners, especially those who live in cold climates, to run comfortably.

Tucker's design wish list included, 1) a shoe based on the Munson Army Last so toes and bones in the foot can move freely, similar to barefoot running, 2) a super thin yet grippy sole for maximum ground feel, 3) a flat sole with no heel lift, 4) minimal support and no cushioning overall, including the arch area.

Russell offers three models of Minimalist Footwear: the Minimalist Huron, a stylish Minimalist 3-Eyelet Calfskin Dress Oxford, and a 4 inch and 7 inch Minimalist Thula Thula.
